STUDIO FRANGIPANI · LUXURY PROP ATELIER

Platform Enhancements & Operational Upgrade

Executive Summary Document Prepared for Studio Leadership & Stakeholders

Dear Studio Frangipani Team,
We are pleased to present the completed upgrade of your digital prop rental platform. Our primary objective was two-fold: preserve 100% of the luxury aesthetic, elegant typography, and editorial visual identity you love, while introducing a powerful, seamless operations engine behind the scenes.

Your website has now evolved from a simple showcase catalogue into an intelligent, transaction-safe rental engine. It eliminates manual booking errors, connects your team directly with stylists over WhatsApp, and gives you total real-time control over your physical warehouse inventory. Below is an overview of everything that has been upgraded.

1. Major Improvements at a Glance

A quick comparison of what your website did previously versus what it achieves now:

Feature Area	Previous Website	Upgraded Platform (Today)
Physical Stock Control	Showed a static 'Available' label without knowing true shelf counts or committed bookings.	Exact Live Inventory: Tracks On-Hand, Reserved, and Available stock. Automatically stops double-booking.
Quantities per Prop	Customers could only submit 1 piece at a time.	Multi-Quantity Selection: Stylists can request 2, 5, or 10 units up to your physically available count.
WhatsApp Integration	Customers had to manually type prop names and copy details into WhatsApp.	1-Click Pre-filled WhatsApp: Instant chat with prop photo, SKU, dates, and calculated daily rates already written.
Enquiry Management	Requests were sent as disconnected emails with no reference tracking.	Centralized Enquiry Cart: Issues instant reference codes (ENQ-2026-XXXX) and logs project details.
Admin Communication	No unified portal. Leads and messages were scattered across different channels.	Two Inboxes Hub: Website Enquiries + Live WhatsApp Inbox in one admin screen, unified by customer phone numbers.
Warehouse Auditing	No logs of stock dispatches, returns, or on-set damage.	Movement Audit Ledger: Complete history of every dispatch, return, and repair + 1-click Excel/CSV downloads.

2. What Your Customers & Stylists Experience

Booking luxury props should feel as smooth and refined as shopping an editorial collection. Here are the specific enhancements your clients will notice on the public website:

Official SKU Codes on Every Piece	Every prop now has a unique studio code (e.g., SKU: SF-BRS-001). Stylists, art directors, and production managers can cite this exact code on call sheets and WhatsApp discussions.
Live Stock Availability Badges	Color-coded indicators (such as IN STOCK (5 AVAIL) or LOW STOCK) let clients know immediately what can be fulfilled for their shoot dates, preventing disappointment.
Interactive Quantity Stepper (- / +)	Productions often need multiples of the same item (e.g., 6 matching wine goblets or 2 bedside tables). Clients can now adjust quantities directly, capped strictly at what you physically have available.
One-Click 'Chat on WhatsApp'	Next to every prop is a direct WhatsApp button. Clicking it opens a chat with your team with the prop title, SKU, rental period, and estimated total already typed out for the customer.
The Seamless Enquiry Cart (`/rental-request`)	Clients can build a complete shoot list across multiple categories, specify shoot dates, select delivery or pickup, and submit without being forced to pay online upfront.
Instant Booking Confirmation Reference	Upon submission, clients receive an official reference number (e.g. ENQ-2026-3040) and an itemized breakdown, giving them confidence that their request has been formally received.

Important Business Protection: Why Submitting a Cart Does NOT Deduct Stock
In the prop rental industry, stylists frequently submit moodboard wishlists just to check pricing. If the website automatically reserved inventory on cart submission, casual browsers could accidentally lock up your best props and prevent real, paying productions from booking them. With your new system, inventory is only committed when you or your team click 'Confirm & Reserve' inside the admin dashboard. Your warehouse remains fully protected.

3. What Your Team Can Do (Admin & Operations)

Behind the scenes, we built an operations hub tailored specifically for prop rental workflows. Here is how your daily management has become simpler and more efficient:

The Smart Inventory Shield (No Double-Bookings)	The system continuously calculates: Available = On-Hand minus Reserved. • On-Hand: Actual pieces in your atelier. • Reserved: Pieces promised to confirmed shoots. • Available: What is safe to rent out. Automatic Guard: If you try to confirm an order for 4 pieces when only 2 are available, the system immediately blocks the confirmation and shows the shortfall. You can never accidentally double-book.
The Two Inboxes Hub (`/admin/enquiries`)	A centralized communication portal containing two coordinated tabs: • Website Enquiries Tab: Tracks all customer requests through their lifecycle (New → Contacted → Quoted → Won / Confirmed → Lost). Features 1-click buttons to 'Confirm & Reserve', 'Dispatch Order', and 'Return to Inventory'. • WhatsApp Two-Way Inbox Tab: Read customer WhatsApp messages right in your admin panel. See delivery ticks (sent, delivered, read), and reply directly or click luxury pre-written templates (e.g., 'Props Available - Send Quote').
Smart Client Recognition	If a client fills out an enquiry on your website and later messages you on WhatsApp, the system automatically recognizes their phone number and links their shoot enquiry reference (ENQ-2026-XXXX) right inside the chat thread.
Complete Movement Audit Ledger & CSV Exports	Every time stock is received, sent to a shoot set, returned, or repaired, an immutable record is logged with the date, user, and reason. Your team can download instant CSV spreadsheets anytime for accountants, monthly audits, or insurance claims.
Real-Time Notifications & Low Stock Alerts	A notification bell in the topbar alerts you the moment a new enquiry is submitted, a WhatsApp lead comes in, or an item reaches its minimum reorder threshold.

Summary & Next Steps:
Your upgraded platform is fully tested, stable, and ready for commercial use. All 23 public and admin pages compile cleanly with zero errors. Your team can immediately begin managing orders, answering WhatsApp enquiries, and tracking physical stock with total confidence.
